SSAT National Conference 2017

ILLUMINATING LEARNING

30 November - 1 December Manchester

Main Stage Speakers

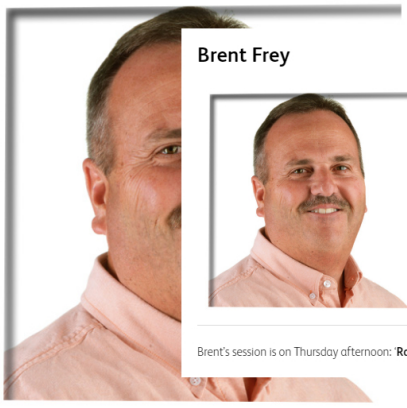

Mark Emmerson

Mark Emmerson is CEO of the City of London Academies Trust. City of London achieved the best average Progress 8 score of any sponsor in 2016. Furthermore, as the Sutton Trust report 'Chain Effects 2016' highlighted, they also delivered best outcomes of any academy chain for disadvantaged children in the country.

Mark has a significant and sustained track record of impact on the progress and attainment of students. The three schools he has led as Principal have all improved significantly and were recognised by Ofsted as exhibiting Outstanding leadership. Mark's last school, The City Academy, Hackney, was rated as Outstanding twice and has been ranked in the top six schools in the country for student progress in the country since 2014.

At a national level he has advised the DfE on behaviour and SSAT on curriculum design, pedagogy, leadership development, as well as writing a number of published papers on creative teaching, school leadership and raising attainment.

Mark's session is on Friday afternoon: 'Marginal gains in education' – find out more.

Brent Frey

Brent D. Frey is part of Apple's Education team, working with school leaders to leverage technology to transform learning. Prior to Apple, Brent served for 18 years as a teacher, principal, and technology director in Pennsylvania. He holds a BS Ed in Technology Education and an MS Ed in Education Administration.

Some of the most powerful opportunities for technology are realised in the hands of students and teachers. Apple designs technology that empowers every individual, no matter how they learn and what they love to do. And Apple Education is dedicated to helping schools make the most of Apple products to expand what's possible for learning, create new opportunities for teaching, and establish dynamic environments that inspire both.

Brent's session is on Thursday afternoon: 'Raising the Bar for Learning with Technology' – find out more.
